The Tennessee Legislature has a superabundance of genius if the character of its enactments be an index. One of its acts is a bill making gambling a felony. Another legalizes betting on horse races.

Wm. ex-senator Kellogg asserted that he should not have been indicted because he saved the republican party in 1876 he evidently overlooked the fact that the party has more than it can do just now to take care of itself without bothering about Kellogg.

The following is from the Courier-Journal: The Baltimore gas companies have agreed to charge $1 a 1,000 cubic feet, and one of the St. Louis companies has reduced its price from $2.50 to $1.50. There is not a gas company in the United States, located within the area of coal facilities, which can not make a good profit selling gas at $1.50 and a fair profit even at $1. In England where the residential is all disposed of to dyers, agriculturists, druggists, etc., gas-making is profitable at seventy-five cents.

A Frankfort special says: The Superior Court in the case of the Kentucky Central Railroad Company vs. Kenney, decided a point of much interest to the legal fraternity. The compilers of the general statutes, in their efforts to become very precise, became very obscure regarding the law in reference to the selection of special Circuit Judges, and, to set at rest this vexed question, the court, in a decision rendered by Judge Boyd n. holds substantially that in the absence of the regular Circuit Judge a special Judge may be elected by the members of the bar, to hold the Court for the entire term, and it is therefore not necessary to elect a special Judge for each particular case.

The following is from the American Register: The first tariff ever imposed was in 1789. The colonies along the Atlantic sea-board prior to this had collected customs duties, and selling imports thus taxed to those of the interior were enabled to make these interior populations pay the cost of governing the coast-line populations, the latter hardly felt burdens of government. The Union was created that the central government, for the equal advantage of all the States, might collect revenues for the common purposes of all. In the preamble to the tariff act of 1789 it is written that "for the encouragement and protection of manufactures, duties shall be levied upon goods, wares, and merchandise imported," &c. The first tariff averaged 8 1/2 per cent., with 5 per cent. on cottons and 7 1/2 per cent. on iron and steel. The protected class evidently liked the douceurs given by central power, and in 1789 the average rate of duties was 1 1/2 per cent., with still 7 1/2 on iron and steel, and 5 on woolens, and a raise to 7 1/2 on cottons. These are tariffs of whose "happy effects" Washington spoke. Why not test the effects of such a tariff to-day? We believe that every true and honest patriot like Washington would approve it. A revenue tariff is a protective tariff; but a protective tariff loses its character and its virtue as an agency for the production of revenue and assumes every guise of robbery and wrong. Industries that only asked for 8 or at most 10 per cent. as a donation from the people, now pampered and spoiled, demand 40 and 50 and even 80 per cent., and such is their combined strength, and such the bribes they proffer, either in money or local influence to which Congressmen owe elevation to office, that these protected industries are omnipotent in legislation and the plundered people voiceless.

Advice to Emigrants.

From the Cincinnati Morning Journal. The "booming" of Dakota has induced many people to rush into that wild, cold region without the means of making themselves decently comfortable in their new homes. It is folly for people located in the older States to sell off hard-earned property and run away to far eastern regions of which they know nothing beyond the exaggerations of advertising land speculators. There is still room in Ohio, Kentucky, and Indiana for people who are willing to work for a living, and who are not constantly dreaming of big fortunes jumping right up out of the ground at them. Emigration is all right in its proper way, but people in search of new abodes should, before they start, know something of the place in which they are to land.

Evidence of a Terrible Crime.
GALENA, ILL., April 13.—Considerable excitement has been occasioned in this city by the finding of the skeleton, intact, of what appears to have been a young woman, in ground remote from any cemetery, and inside of the corporation, which is being dug up for road purposes. The remains were found about two feet from the surface. The skull is broken in on the right side near the base, and the opinion prevails that a foul murder has at some time been committed. A pair of solid gold earring pendants were found near the skull. The matter is to be investigated.

A Desperate Saloon-Keener.
CHICAGO, April 13.—While three constables were serving a State warrant on Morris Studleman, a saloon-keeper in the southern portion of the city, Studleman drew a revolver and shot Constable Edward Mooney in the right breast, inflicting a wound which will prove fatal. He also wounded Constable Richard Ganford. The saloon-keeper was finally landed in jail after reinforcements of police had arrived and smashed in the door of a room where he had barricaded himself.

Railway Collision.
PLAINFIELD, N. J., April 13.—A Lehigh Valley train collided with a Philadelphia and Reading train at the crossing of the former road with the Bound Brook road to Philadelphia this morning. Several persons are reported injured and one car burned.

"HAZEL KIRKE." A charming picture of domestic life.

LEXINGTON is now lighted by twenty-five electric burners.

HEAR is quoted at $4.65 at Lexington, and the crop is said to be very fine.

S. H. BARRETT & Co's. circus will exhibit in Maysville on Monday, May 7th.

The mercury registered eighty-seven degrees in the shade yesterday afternoon.

"HAZEL KIRKE." A domestic drama, direct in its simplicity, unerring in its pathos.

The iron front for Dr. Moore's business house on Second street arrived to-day. It is to be put up immediately.

Miss A. J. WILLIAMS' show windows this week are attracting much attention. The display of cashmeres and satins is unusually handsome.

We hear of several persons who expect to begin building houses in Chester as soon as there is a certainty that the street railway will be constructed.

The last agony in note paper resembles discolored parchment, which by means of dark coloring is made to look as if it had rotted away in places from sheer age.

The slanderous Louisville Post says: A Maysville man poisoned a biscuit for rats. Mother-in-law ate the biscuit. The M. m. now believes in a special providence.

Avon the rush for seats for "Hazel Kirke" by securing them at once. The celebrated play is announced for next Wednesday, one night only, and the only representation here this season.

Mr. G. W. GEISEL, who has been an indefatigable gatherer of prehistoric relics has deposited a large and valuable collection in the rooms of the Historical Society. There are many curious and rare articles in the lot which will be of great interest to all persons interested in mound investigation.

The Mugby Junction tea party is a device of Massachusetts invention, for yielding fun and money for the churches. Baskets containing suppers for two persons are sold by auction. Each bears the card of the woman who prepared the meals enclosed, and the purchaser has her for a companion at table.

Mrs. ELIZABETH MEANS, the venerable mother of Robert F. and Q. A. Means, of this city, died on Thursday evening, the 12th inst., near Concord, of paralysis. She was born at Shepherdsville, Bullitt county, Ky., in 1802, and was consequently eighty-one years of age. Mrs. Means was an esteemed citizen of the community where she lived so many years and her death will be sincerely deplored there and elsewhere.

The work of securing subscribers to the $20,000 worth of first mortgage bonds of the street railway is progressing satisfactorily. A considerable part of the amount has been taken and it is thought the remainder can be placed among our own citizens. The projectors of the enterprise are very much encouraged and hope in a few days to be able to announce that active steps toward the construction of the road will be taken. Such of our citizens, who can afford to do so, ought to come forward immediately and take the bonds that remain.

The speech of the Hon. J. Proctor Knott at the Court House yesterday afternoon, was a sound and able explanation of the true principles of Democratic government, and was heard by a large and highly pleased audience. Such speeches throughout the State at this time would be of incalculable service to the party. Mr. Knott is a forcible and pleasing speaker of great earnestness, and with the power of carrying conviction with his words, and while his claims upon the Democracy were strongly presented, his speech was remarkably free from unfavorable criticism of any of the gentlemen who are contesting with him for the gubernatorial nomination. He left this afternoon for Scott county, where he is announced to speak this evening.

CIRCUIT COURT.

Fourth Day's Proceedings---Continuation of the Cooper-Insko Trial---Evidence for the Defense.

Lee Frick, sworn, and said: Don't know Cooper and his wife. Was at the fair last day, Saturday, saw Cooper and wife when I went out there. Had no conversation with them that day, saw them again just before shooting was done--close to it when it took place. He was close to left post, (post furthest from pike at steps). Had just come up behind them (Cooper and wife) I saw some one come up. He and two young girls came up, one on each arm. They came up facing. I didn't know who this fellow was. He said "there's the d--n s--n of n--h, now I intend to kill him." Cooper said "I don't know you, you'll have to be quicker than I am." I turned around and ran back, was afraid there would be some shooting. Hadn't run far, before I heard first shot. Heard second shot when I got down on the ground. The two women tried to pull him back he tried to get away from them. Saw Insko after he was laid out in hall. Can't be positive that he was the same man. When these words were spoken the man was looking at Cooper. There were a good many persons between me and Cooper and between Cooper and this man. Have known Cooper and his wife about four years. Have gone there a good deal. Live about three-quarters of a mile from them. When I went home, told my cousin Mr. York, about this, never told any one but him about what I heard till I was summoned. I was in three or four feet of Cooper. The man, women were about as far from Cooper as that is room, me (pointing to an object about ten or twelve feet from him). There were parties between us. The women were pulling him back. I had run some distance when I heard first shot, was down on ground when second shot was fired. Joseph Cooper, related to George Cooper, an twenty-eight years old. Live in Jackson county, with my mother. Wasn't there at time of killing. A married man, my brother George is about twenty-five years old. His strength last fall was not very good. He is crippled. He had been married about three weeks before he was shot every day, was a policeman. Don't recollect of seeing Insko there, saw my brother once that day. Saw him a short time before shooting. I came upstairs from stable. Saw him standing near. I was with him about ten minutes (saw him questions asked by Mr. W. W. Worth, attorney, at this point concerning a conversation, witness had with Cooper at that time, but they were ruled out). He left and went round towards steps. His wife came up and asked where George was. I pointed George out to her. He was thirty or thirty-five feet away. She asked him and they went on towards steps. Had about time to walk to steps when I heard shot. Didn't see them. Didn't see smoke. I saw Insko afterwards lying on promenade near post. Saw a bullet hole in floor about two feet from post. Next saw him to floor but not one and a half hours later. Helped mistress him and lay him out. Saw wound on left hand. It looked like a flesh wound. It was quivering on hand. It was high up.

The defense introduced other witnesses, whose testimony we are unable to give, at the session of court last night. The attorneys for the defense announced that they were through. A few witnesses were introduced in rebuttal, and court adjourned till this morning.

The Churches.

Services will be held as usual at St. Patrick's Church to-morrow.

The usual services will be held at the M. E. Church to-morrow by Rev. Boring, the pastor.

The protracted meeting at the M. E. Church, South, at Germantown, conducted by Dr. R. Hiner closed this week with nineteen additions.

The Presbytery of Ebenezer meets in Covington, next Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock. The opening sermon will be preached by Rev. S. B. Alderson.

Rev. M. D. REYNOLDS will preach at the M. E. Church, South, next Sunday at 11 a. m., and 7:30 p. m. Subject for evening: "The standard for judging the Bible in the light of modern research."

The congregation of the Southern Presbyterian Church will hold their regular services at the church to-morrow morning and evening. Preaching by Rev. S. N. Chester, of Charlotte, N. C. The public is cordially invited.

Rev. A. N. Gilbert will preach at the Christian Church to-morrow morning, giving the last of the series of sermons on "Future Punishment," the special subject being "The Nature of Future Punishment." At night he will give the second lecture of the series on "Love, Courtship and Marriage," the special subject being "Courtship." Everybody cordially welcome. Services begin punctually at 7:40.

The impression exists at Minerva that Wm. Bradbury, who killed Ephraim Dragoo on Thursday afternoon and subsequently escaped from the officer who arrested him, has committed suicide. No news has been heard of him in the neighborhood, although the closest search has been made. His friend are now hunting for his body, and it is now said that there are good reasons for believing that at the time the murder was committed he was mentally irresponsible for the act. Hitherto he is said to have been a quiet and orderly citizen and was well thought of by all who knew him.

Death of Thomas M. Allen.

The news was received in Maysville this morning of the death of Mr. Thomas M. Allen at the Good Samaritan Hospital at Cincinnati, yesterday. The remains will arrive in this city to-night.

HIS MA DECEIVES HIM.

Pecks Sun.

"Give me ten cents worth of saffron, quick," said the bad boy to the grocery man, as he came in the grocery on a gallop, early one morning, with no collar on, and no vest. He looked as though he had been routed out of bed in a hurry, and had jumped into his pants and boots, and put on his coat and hat on the run.

"I don't keep saffron, said the grocery man, as he picked up a barrel of ax-handles the boy had tipped over in his hurry. "You want to go over to the drug store on the corner, if you want saffron. But what on earth is the mat--"

At this point the boy shot out of the door, tipping over a basket of white beans, and disappeared in the drug store. The grocery man got down on his knees on the sidewalk and scooped up the beans, occasionally looking over to the drug store, and just as he got them picked up the boy came out of the drug store and walked deliberately towards his home, as though there was no particular hurry. The grocery man looked after him, took up an ax-handle, spit on his hands and shouted to the boy to come over pretty soon, as he wanted to talk with him. The boy did not come to the grocery till towards night, but the grocery man had seen him running down town a dozen times during the day, once he rode up to the house, with the doctor, and the grocer surmised what was the trouble. Along towards night the boy came in in a dejected sort of a tired way, sat down on a barrel of sugar, and never spoke.

"What is it, a boy or a girl," said the grocery man, winking at an old lady, with a shawl over her head, who was trying to hold a paper over a pitcher of yeast with her thumb.

"How in blazes did you know anything about it," said the boy as he looked around in astonishment, and with some indignation. "Well, it's a girl, if you must know, and that's enough," and he looked down at the cat playing on the floor with a potato, his face a picture of dejection.

"I don't feel bad about it," said the grocery man, as he opened the door for the old lady. "Such things are bound to occur. But you take my word for it, that young one is going to have a hard life, unless you mend your ways. You will be using it for a cork to a jug, or to a gun with, the first thing your ma knows."

"I wouldn't touch the darn thing with the tongue," said the boy, as he had enough to eat some crackers and cheese. "Gosh, this cheese tastes good. I have had nothing to eat since morning. I have been all over this town trading for nurses. They think a boy hasn't got a feeling. But I wouldn't care a gold mine, if I hadn't been sending me for morphia medicine, and my fever small all winter, when she wanted to get rid of me. I have come in the room lots of times when ma and the sewing gal were at work on some of my things, and ma would hide them in a basket and send me off after medicine. I was deceived up to about four o'clock this morning, when pa came to my room and pulled me out of bed to go over on the West Side after some old woman that knew ma, and they have kept me whooping ever since. What does a boy want of a sister, unless it is a big sister? I don't want no sister that I have got to hold, and rock, and hold a bottle for. This affair breaks me all up," and the boy picked the cheese out of his teeth with a sliver he cut off the counter.

"Well, how does your pa take it?" said the grocery man, as he charged the boy's pa with cheese, and saffron, and a number of such things.

"O, pa will pull through. He wanted to boss the whole concern until ma's chum, an old woman that takes snuff, fired him out into the hall. Pa sat there on my hand-shed, a perfect picture of despair, and I thought it would be a kindness to play it on him. I found the cat asleep in the bath-room, and I rolled the cat up in a shawl and brought it out to pa and told him the nurse wanted him to hold the baby. It seemed to do pa good to feel that he was indispensable around the house, and he took the cat on his lap as tenderly as you ever saw a mother hold an infant. Well, I got in the back hall, where he couldn't see me, and pretty soon the cat began to wake up and stretch himself, and pa said, 'sh-h go to sleep now, and let pa hold it,' and pa rocked back and forth on the hand-shed and began to sing 'hy, low, baby.' That settled it with the cat. Well, some cats can't stand music, anyway, and the more the cat wanted to get out of the shawl, the louder pa sung, and himehy I heard something up, and pa yelled, 'sear you brutes,' and when I looked around the corner of the hall the cat was bracing himself against pa's vest with his toe nails, and yowling, and pa fell over the sled and began to talk about the hereafter like the minister does when he gets excited in church and then pa picked up the sled and seemed to be looking for me or the cat, but both of us was awful scarce. Don't you think there are times when boys and cats are kind of few around their accustomed haunts? Pa don't look as though he was very smart, but he can hold a cat about as well as the next man. But I am sorry for ma. She was just getting ready to go to Florida for her neuralgia, and this will put a stop to it, cause she has to stay and take care of that young one. Pa says I will have a nice time this summer pushing the baby wagon. By the great horn spoons, there has got to be a dividing line somewhere, between business and pleasure, and I strike the line at wheeling a baby. I had rather catch a string of perch than to wheel all the babies ever was. They needn't pre-occupy no baby on my account, if it is to amuse me. I don't see why babies can't be sawed off onto people that need them in their business. Our folks don't need a safe, and there are people people just suffering for babies. Say, how would it be to take the baby some night and leave it on some old bachelor's door step. If it had been a bicycle, or a three-hundred pound gun, I wouldn't have cared, but a baby! It makes me tired. I'd druther have a prize package. Well, I am sorry Pa allowed me to come home, after he drove me away last week. I guess all he wanted me to come back for was to humiliate me, and send me on errands. Well, I must go and see if he and the cat have made up."

And the boy went out and put up a paper sign in front of the store, "Leave your measure for saffron tea."

MESSRS. SULSER, PETRY & Co., the largest manufacturers of cigars in Maysville, have agreed to give the price asked by the operatives, and the strike is now at an end. The agreement would have been signed yesterday when the other manufacturers approved it, except for the absence of both Mr. Sulser and Mr. Petry from the city. The best of feeling exists all around.

We take pleasure in calling the attention of our readers to the advertisement of Blatterman & Power which appears in another column. This firm makes a specialty of supplying stoves of the latest design and best qualities, which they guarantee to be made of hot blast charcoal iron, and not from scrap iron. These stoves they warrant to last longer and give better service than any others in the market. They also call attention to their various specialties which will be found enumerated in the advertisement. Their prices, they assure their friends, are as low as any other establishment can offer.

POOR MARKSMEN.

An Editor and Printer Shooting at Each Other Who Couldn't, on Fair Trial, Hit the Side of a Barn.

PINE BLUFF, Ark., April 13.—Arthur Murray, editor of the Press-Eagle, and A. D. Wright, late a compositor on that paper, indulged in a street duel last evening. An article in the Press-Eagle denounced Wright as a cowardly traitor and hypocritical scoundrel, and an unscrupulous liar. Wright was on the pavement of the postoffice as Murray approached from the south side. When Murray was about midway of the street Wright rapidly advanced, and when within a foot or two of the former fired over the shoulders of Rev. Dr. Browning, pastor of the Methodist Church, who was between him and his antagonist. Murray promptly returned the fire over the other shoulder of the minister, and pushed him aside, and endeavored to fire a second time, but the cylinder of his pistol declined to do duty. Wright fell back gradually, firing, and about this time the police arrested both parties. Wright fired three times and Murray once. Wright was arrested on the charge of assault with intent to kill. Six lawyers, among them the State's Attorney, witnessed the affair, and as lawyers are proverbial for not agreeing two testified that Wright fired the first shot, two that Murray did, and the other two did not know which did. The preponderance of the evidence was that Wright did. Murray's face was burnt with powder, as was Dr. Browning's, so close to him was the firing on both sides.

WASHINGTON BRIEFS.

Ben Butterworth has been appointed special attorney in the South Carolina election cases in place of Crowley, resigned.

The Comptroller of the Currency has authorized the Cincinnati National Bank, of Cincinnati, to engage in business with a capital stock of $500,000.

Commissioner Dudley says his July report will show that every claim pending in the office could be disposed of in day if necessary evidence was furnished.

Postmaster General Gresham made a formal call on Treasurer New yesterday. They were very civil to each other—as becomes gentlemen.

In accordance with a telegram from Secretary Chandler, received at the Navy Department, the Tallapoosa has been ordered to proceed from Key West, Fla., to St. Augustine to receive the Presidential party on board. It is not known when the Tallapoosa will start on its voyage, but it is thought the party will start in one of the Tallapoosa's boats.

A Disastrous Mine Fall.

St. Louis, April 13.—A remarkable case of a disastrous shooting occurred in Jacob Helfrich's saloon, Belleville, Ill. August Mine, who lives about three miles from town on the poor-house road, and Mary Wissett, aged eighteen, a domestic in Helfrich's house, were both shot at the same instant by a single discharge of an old four-barreled pepperbox pistol. The young woman called Mine to open the pistol, saying that she could not. He complied, and the mine fired. The ball passed through the palm of his left hand and struck Miss Wissett in the right thigh, lodging in her left thigh. It will be several days before the extent of her injuries are known, but this morning she is in a critical way. Mine was taken to the house of a relative.

A Suspicious Case of Bankruptcy.

Pinckney, April 13.—John Morrison, a carriage maker, confessed judgment today for $2,500 in favor of his brother William. The cause of his failure he alleges to be that burglars last night took $7,000 from his safe, leaving him practically a bankrupt. He himself this morning examined his safe and is suspicious that Morrison himself took the money, as the safe was found locked this morning by the first employee entering the shop, but the inside of the safe had been tampered with, and greenbacks and checks were scattered over the floor. The case will be investigated.

A Young Man Vaporized.

Mexico, Ind., April 13.—About 1 o'clock yesterday Charles Rhodes, a young man eighteen years old, started to the country with a box of Remington cartridges under his arm, used to blow up stumps. When only about half a mile from the city the entire box of cartridges exploded, blowing his body to pieces. Some of his clothes hung on trees seventy feet high. Buildings nearby were made a total wreck.

Indiana State Insane Asylum.

INDIANAPOLIS, April 13.—The new Indiana Asylum Commissioners will go to Evansville Monday to initiate the work on the new State Insane Hospital to be erected there. Afterward they will visit the different cities in the State to determine the location of the other two hospitals.

Condition of Indiana Crops.

INDIANAPOLIS, April 13.—The condition of the State crops for March, according to reports received from every county by the Indiana Farmer, makes the following averages, per cent.: Wheat, acres, 100; wheat condition, 75; rye, condition, 80; barley, condition, 81; clover, condition, 91; timothy, condition, 96; horses, condition, 100; cattle, condition, 90; sheep, condition, 97; hogs, condition, 98; peach buds alive, 36; apple buds alive, 32; wheat in producers' hands, 17; wages of farm hands per month, $17.

Why Schaefer Beat Vignaux.

New York, April 12.—Maurice Daly, Wm. Sexton and Joseph Dion have returned from Chicago, and express no particular fondness for the new balk line game. They are anxious to meet Schaefer and Vignaux at cushion carous. Daly says that Schaefer's art of nursing the balls across the balk line was almost perfect, and he thought with a little more practice that Schaefer would be able to play it almost as well as he does the rail. The game consists, he says, in a continual repetition of three shots. Vignaux had been taking life in Chicago until the first night that Schaefer played, and he saw this feat of nursing. After that the Frenchman devoted all his spare time to practicing it, but he did not begin soon enough to save himself from defeat.

Fred Wagoner's Body Found.

DENVER, Colo., April 13.—The body of Fred Wagoner, brother of the deceased palace car man, a native of New York, and for whom extended search was made last fall, was found by emigrants on the banks of a creek, eight miles from Powers' Station on the Santa Fe Railroad. The body was terribly disfigured, and considerable money was found scattered about. A bullet hole in the back of the neck proves conclusively that he was murdered for the large amount of money carried on his person.

In Need of an Intelligent Physician.

CHATTANOOGA, TENN., April 13.—Two weeks ago two popular young men died at Norris town of what was at first supposed to be measles, but was really smallpox. Over 200 people attended their funeral, and consequently were exposed to the contagion. There has been no vaccination in Norris town for several years, and all who were exposed were liable to have the disease. Fifteen cases of smallpox developed there Monday and several more Tuesday and Wednesday. The inhabitants of the stricken place are fleeing in every direction, and the town will soon be depopulated.

AYER'S Cherry Pectoral.

No other complaints are so insidious in their attack as those affecting the throat and lungs: none so trifled with by the majority of sufferers. The ordinary cough or cold, resulting perhaps from a trifling or inconspicuous exposure, is often but the beginning of a fatal sickness. AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL has well proven its efficacy in a forty years' fight with throat and lung diseases, and should be taken in all cases without delay.

A Terrible Cough Cured.
"In 1857 I took a severe cold, which affected my lungs. I had a terrible cough, and passed little sleep. I tried AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, which relieved my lungs, induced sleep, and afforded me the rest necessary for the recovery of my strength. By the continued use of the PECTORAL, a permanent cure was effected. I am now 42 years old, hale and hearty, and am satisfied your CHERRY PECTORAL has saved my darling life. Can you wonder at our gratitude? Sincerely yours,
Rockingham, Vt., July 15, 1882.

Croup.—A Mother's Tribute.
"While in the country last winter my little boy, three years old, was taken ill with croup; it seemed as if he would die from strangulation. One of the family suggested the use of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, a bottle of which was at once procured. This was tried in small and frequent doses, and to our delight in less than half an hour the little patient was breathing easily. The doctor said that the CHERRY PECTORAL had saved my darling's life. Can you wonder at our gratitude? Sincerely yours,
Mrs. Emma Gidney,
150 West 12th St., New York, May 16, 1882.

"I have used AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL in my family for several years, and do not hesitate to pronounce it the most effective remedy for coughs and colds we have ever tried. A. J. CRANE, Lake Crystal, Minn., March 13, 1882.

"I suffered for eight years from Bronchitis, and after trying many remedies with no success, I was cured by the use of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. JOHN R. WALDEN, Rydal, Miss., April 5, 1882.

"I cannot say enough in praise of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, believing as I do that but for its use I should long since have died from lung troubles. F. BRAGDON, Palestine, Texas, April 22, 1882.

No cause of an affection of the throat or lungs exists which cannot be greatly relieved by the use of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, and it will always cure when the disease is not already beyond the control of medicine.
